Your Profile

You can also access the courses by clicking on your username after you have logged in:

This will take you to your profile page. From there you will be able to track your course progress, print your certificates and retake courses as needed.

Remember: Logging in to your account is the only way to track your progress and earn a certificate. By working on courses while logged in, you will be able to stop when you want to, then start again right where you left off. Select the course you wish to work on and then select the section within that course in order to see progress made.

Print Your Certificate or Retake a Course

After you complete a course, you'll want to print your certificate. Or, in a year, you may find that you want or need to retake a course. By logging into your account and going to your profile page, you will be able to do both! From your profile page, scroll to the course you need to retake or print a certificate. The circle shows where the Retake Course button will appear. The arrow shows where the View/Print Your Certificate button will appear. Selecting that will take you to a page that shows you your certificate and allows you to print.
